Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center 2022 Implementation Strategy

Summary

Kaiser Permanente is an integrated health care delivery system comprised of Kaiser Foundation Hospitals, Kaiser Foundation Health Plan, and physicians in the Permanente Medical Groups. For 75 years, Kaiser Permanente has been committed to shaping the future of health and health care — and helping our members, patients, and communities experience more healthy years. We are recognized as one of America's leading health care providers and nonprofit health plans.

Every three years Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center conducts a community health needs assessment (CHNA) and identifies significant health needs. To address those needs, Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center has developed an implementation strategy (IS) for the priority needs it will address, considering both Kaiser Permanente's and the community's assets and resources. The CHNA-IS process is driven by a commitment to improve health equity and is intended to be transparent, rigorous, and collaborative.

For the 2023-2025 IS, Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center has identified the following significant health needs to be addressed in the IS, in priority order:

1. Access to care
2. Mental & behavioral health
3. Income & employment

Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center's CHNA report and three-year IS are publicly available at <https://www.kp.org/chna>.

About Kaiser Permanente Community Health

At Kaiser Permanente, we recognize that where we live and how we live has a big impact on our health and well-being. Our work is driven by our mission: to provide high-quality, affordable health care services and to improve the health of our members and our communities. It's also driven by our heritage of prevention and health promotion, and by our conviction that good health is a fundamental right.

As the nation's largest nonprofit, integrated health system, Kaiser Permanente is uniquely positioned to improve the health and wellbeing of the communities we serve. We believe that being healthy isn't just a result of high-quality medical care. Through our resources, reach, and partnerships, we are addressing unmet social needs and community factors that impact health. Kaiser Permanente is accelerating efforts to broaden the scope of our care and services to address all factors that affect people's health. Having a safe place to live, enough money in the bank, access to healthy meals, and meaningful social connections is essential to total health. Now is a time when our commitment to health and values compel us to do all we can to create more healthy years for everyone. We also share our financial resources, research, nurses and physicians, and our clinical practices and knowledge through a variety of grantmaking and investment efforts.

As we reflect on how 2020 changed the world, we must recognize that communities everywhere are coping with unprecedented challenges magnified by the COVID-19 pandemic and a renewed struggle for racial equity and social justice.

Through our continued focus on expanding our community health approach we laid the foundation for an acceleration of work to meet the challenges posed by the public health crises we now face. We dedicated ourselves to improving the social health of our 12.5 million members and the millions of people who live in the communities we serve.

Kaiser Permanente's approach to community health needs assessment

The Affordable Care Act (ACA) was enacted in March 2010 to make health insurance available to more people, expand the Medicaid program, and support innovative medical care delivery to lower health care costs. The ACA also requires that nonprofit hospitals conduct a community health needs assessment (CHNA) every three years and develop an implementation strategy (IS) in response to prioritized needs.

Kaiser Permanente's CHNA process is driven by a commitment to improve health equity. Our assessments place a heavy emphasis on how the social determinants of health — including structural racism, poverty, and lack of access to health-related resources such as affordable housing, healthy food, and transportation — are affecting the health of communities. By analyzing community-level data and consulting individuals with deep and broad knowledge of health disparities, the Community Health team in each KP service area has identified and prioritized needs unique to the community served. Each service area has developed an IS for the priority needs it will address, considering both Kaiser Permanente's and the community's assets and resources.

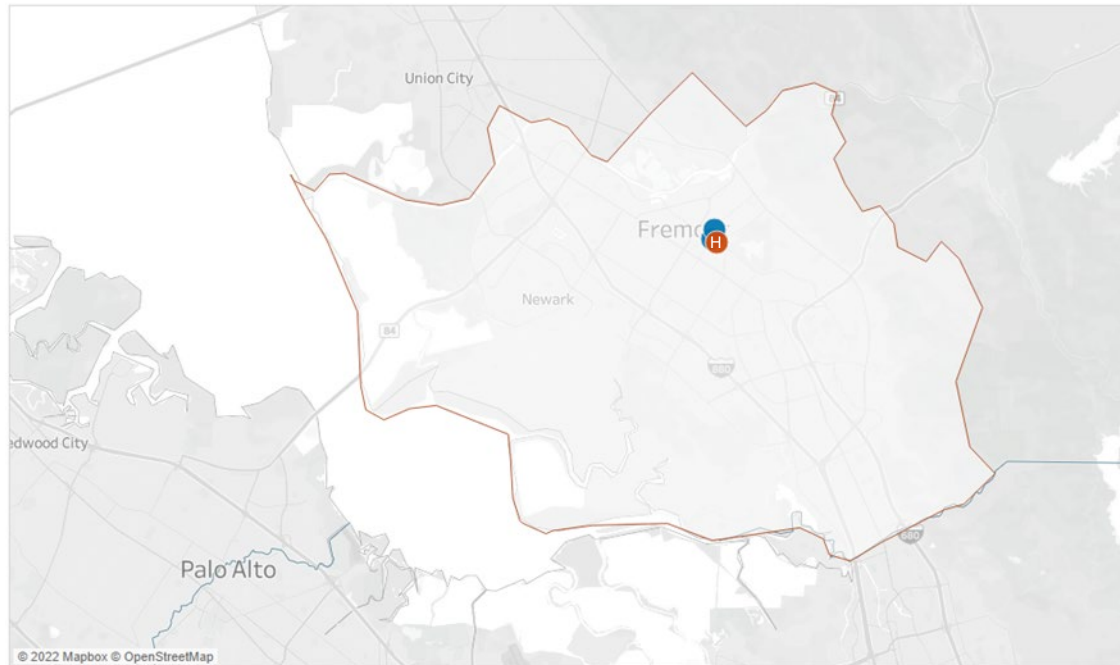

The Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center 2022 CHNA report and three-year IS are available publicly at <https://www.kp.org/chna>. In addition, the IS will be filed with the Internal Revenue Service using Form 990, Schedule H.

Community health needs

Significant health needs identified in the Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center 2022 CHNA report

Each Kaiser Permanente service area analyzed and interpreted the primary and secondary data to determine what constitutes a health need in the community. Once all the community health needs were identified they were prioritized, resulting in a list of significant community health needs in the Fremont service area, listed below.

1. Housing
2. Access to care
3. Mental & behavioral health
4. Income & employment

Kaiser Permanente's implementation strategy process

Identifying the highest priority needs with an equity lens informs our community investments and helps us develop strategies aimed at making long-term, sustainable change, allowing us to deepen the strong relationships we have with other organizations that are working to improve community health.

To identify the significant health needs that Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center will address in the 2022 three-year Implementation Strategy, Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center Community Health considered a set of criteria that includes:

- Severity and magnitude of need: How health measures compare to national or state benchmarks, the relative number of people affected, impact of COVID-19 on the need
- Community priority: The community prioritizes the issue over other issues
- Clear disparities or inequities: Differences in health factors or outcomes by geography, race/ethnicity, economic status, age, gender, or other factors
- Leveraging Kaiser Permanente assets: Kaiser Permanente can make a meaningful contribution to addressing the need
- Potential to improve health equity and disparities
- A successful solution has the potential to solve multiple problems
- Effective and feasible interventions exist
- Existing attention/resources dedicated to the issue

Health needs Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center plans to address

The health needs in the Fremont service area that will be addressed during 2023-2025 are:

1. Access to care: Access to comprehensive, quality health care services — including having insurance, local care options, and a usual source of care — is important for ensuring quality of life for everyone. Though the Fremont service area experiences low rates of uninsured residents, other measures highlight access to care barriers for maternal care and the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic for certain groups. Across 2016 to 2020, premature birth rates as a percent of all live births were higher for Black, Multiracial, and Hispanic residents, compared with the Fremont service area overall. Pacific Islander residents had the highest rate of COVID-19 cases across the Fremont service area, while white residents had the highest rates of death due to COVID. Key informants noted the high costs of health care as a barrier to accessing care in the Fremont service area.

2. Mental & behavioral health. Mental health affects all areas of life, including a person’s physical well-being, ability to work and perform well in school and to participate fully in family and community activities. The number of mental health providers based on population size is an asset for Alameda County, which contains the Fremont service area, which is higher than the state of California and the nation. Deaths of despair—those due to suicide drug overdose, and alcoholism—are also lower than the state and Alameda County as a whole. Disparities exist however in that white residents of the Fremont service area experience a higher rate of deaths of despair than the service area in general and the county. Hispanic residents of the Fremont service area experience the second highest rate of deaths of despair compared to other ethnic groups in the Fremont service area. Key informants described that the need for mental health has significantly increased due to the COVID-19 pandemic, especially as older adults and youth were lonely and isolated during the stay-at-home orders.

3. Income & employment. Economic opportunity provides individuals with jobs, income, a sense of purpose, and opportunities to improve their economic circumstances over time. The Fremont service area benefits from higher employment rates and higher median income levels than the state of California, along with lower rates of poverty. However, access to jobs, as measured by the ‘job proximity index’, for the Fremont service area is worse than Alameda County and the state of California. Some neighborhoods within the Fremont service area experience higher rates of students eligible for free and reduced-price lunch, highlighting greater need for income support. Key informants reported there are few jobs available that enable residents to afford the high cost of living in the Fremont service area, suggesting residents need advanced degrees or specific skills to earn a livable wage. According to informants, the residents most affected by income disparities in the Fremont service area — as noted by key informants — are people with undocumented status, Black, Hispanic, American Indian, and people with disabilities.

Kaiser Permanente's approach to implementation strategies

As the nation's largest nonprofit integrated health care organization, Kaiser Permanente is mission-driven to improve health and well-being in the communities we serve. The COVID-19 pandemic has underscored deep-seated inequities in health care for communities of color and amplified the social and economic disparities that contribute to poor health outcomes.

We will continue to work to improve the conditions for health and equity by addressing the root causes of health, such as economic opportunity, affordable housing, health and wellness in schools, and a healthy environment. We carry out work in our focus areas through a lens that includes deepening our commitment to equity and inclusion.

Kaiser Permanente strategic focus areas include:

Increasing health access

- Charity care: Transforming Charitable Health Coverage and Medical Financial Assistance approaches to continue supporting coverage and care needs for our communities and patients
- Medicaid: Growing our Medicaid participation in a financially sustainable way through innovative operating models that support whole person care and coverage
- Safety Net Partnerships: Ensuring that communities have access to a strong safety net that can equitably meet patients' needs and improve health outcomes

Social health needs

- Thrive Local: Establishing bi-directional electronic community networks that enable health care providers, safety net clinics, social service agencies, government programs, and other participants to make, receive, and track patient and client referrals
- Food for Life: Transforming the economic, social and policy environments to improve health and food security for the communities we serve
- Intergenerational healing and trauma: Acknowledging and addressing trauma across the life course, including trauma related to exposure to racism

Improving community conditions

- Economic opportunity: Increasing income, improving financial security, and reducing economic inequities through our business operations and community partnerships
- Housing for Health: Transforming housing and homelessness systems to improve housing stability for the communities we serve
- Thriving Schools: Fostering healthier school environments for students, staff, and teachers
- CityHealth: Advancing local policies that improve conditions for health
- Environmental stewardship: Reducing and eliminating environmental contributors to disease and illness

Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center will monitor and evaluate the strategies listed above to track implementation and document the impact of those strategies in addressing significant health needs. Tracking metrics for each prioritized health need include the number of grants made, the number of dollars spent, the number of community-based organizations supported, and the number of people reached/served.

In addition to the strategies developed as part of the CHNA/IS process, many health needs are addressed by Kaiser Permanente business practices that contribute to community well-being, including environmentally responsible purchasing, waste reduction, and purchase of clean energy for facilities. We procure supplies and services from a diverse set of providers and partner with workforce development programs to support a pipeline for diverse suppliers, and we build the capacity of local small businesses through training on business fundamentals. We also conduct high-quality health research and disseminate findings intended to increase awareness of the changing health needs of diverse communities, address health disparities, and improve effective health care delivery and health outcomes.

Health needs Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center does not plan to address

The significant health need identified in the 2022 CHNA that Kaiser Permanente Fremont Medical Center does not plan to address is Housing.

Reasons Housing was not selected:

- Less feasibility to make an impact on this need
- Less ability to leverage community assets to address this need
- This need is incorporated into other needs selected
- Aspects of this need will be addressed in strategies for other needs
