Kaiser Permanente Vacaville Medical Center 2022 Implementation Strategy

Summary

Kaiser Permanente is an integrated health care delivery system comprised of Kaiser Foundation Hospitals, Kaiser Foundation Health Plan, and physicians in the Permanente Medical Groups. For 75 years, Kaiser Permanente has been committed to shaping the future of health and health care — and helping our members, patients, and communities experience more healthy years. We are recognized as one of America's leading health care providers and nonprofit health plans.

Every three years Kaiser Permanente Vacaville Medical Center conducts a community health needs assessment (CHNA) and identifies significant health needs. To address those needs, Kaiser Permanente Vacaville Medical Center has developed an implementation strategy (IS) for the priority needs it will address, considering both Kaiser Permanente's and the community's assets and resources. The CHNA-IS process is driven by a commitment to improve health equity and is intended to be transparent, rigorous, and collaborative.

For the 2023-2025 IS, Kaiser Permanente Vacaville Medical Center has identified the following significant health needs to be addressed in the IS, in priority order:

1. Access to care
2. Mental & behavioral health
3. Income & employment
4. Housing

Kaiser Permanente Vacaville Medical Center's CHNA report and three-year IS are publicly available at <https://www.kp.org/chna>.

About Kaiser Permanente Community Health

At Kaiser Permanente, we recognize that where we live and how we live has a big impact on our health and well-being. Our work is driven by our mission: to provide high-quality, affordable health care services and to improve the health of our members and our communities. It's also driven by our heritage of prevention and health promotion, and by our conviction that good health is a fundamental right.

As the nation's largest nonprofit, integrated health system, Kaiser Permanente is uniquely positioned to improve the health and wellbeing of the communities we serve. We believe that being healthy isn't just a result of high-quality medical care. Through our resources, reach, and partnerships, we are addressing unmet social needs and community factors that impact health. Kaiser Permanente is accelerating efforts to broaden the scope of our care and services to address all factors that affect people's health. Having a safe place to live, enough money in the bank, access to healthy meals, and meaningful social connections is essential to total health. Now is a time when our commitment to health and values compel us to do all we can to create more healthy years for everyone. We also share our financial resources, research, nurses and physicians, and our clinical practices and knowledge through a variety of grantmaking and investment efforts.

As we reflect on how 2020 changed the world, we must recognize that communities everywhere are coping with unprecedented challenges magnified by the COVID-19 pandemic and a renewed struggle for racial equity and social justice.

Through our continued focus on expanding our community health approach we laid the foundation for an acceleration of work to meet the challenges posed by the public health crises we now face. We dedicated ourselves to improving the social health of our 12.5 million members and the millions of people who live in the communities we serve.

Kaiser Permanente's approach to community health needs assessment

The Affordable Care Act (ACA) was enacted in March 2010 to make health insurance available to more people, expand the Medicaid program, and support innovative medical care delivery to lower health care costs. The ACA also requires that nonprofit hospitals conduct a community health needs assessment (CHNA) every three years and develop an implementation strategy (IS) in response to prioritized needs.

Kaiser Permanente's CHNA process is driven by a commitment to improve health equity. Our assessments place a heavy emphasis on how the social determinants of health — including structural racism, poverty, and lack of access to health-related resources such as affordable housing, healthy food, and transportation — are affecting the health of communities. By analyzing community-level data and consulting individuals with deep and broad knowledge of health disparities, the Community Health team in each KP service area has identified and prioritized needs unique to the community served. Each service area has developed an IS for the priority needs it will address, considering both Kaiser Permanente's and the community's assets and resources.

The Kaiser Permanente Vacaville Medical Center 2022 CHNA report and three-year IS are available publicly at <https://www.kp.org/chna>. In addition, the IS will be filed with the Internal Revenue Service using Form 990, Schedule H.

Community health needs

Significant health needs identified in the Kaiser Permanente Vacaville Medical Center 2022 CHNA report

Each Kaiser Permanente service area analyzed and interpreted the primary and secondary data to determine what constitutes a health need in the community. Once all the community health needs were identified they were prioritized, resulting in a list of significant community health needs in the Vacaville service area, listed below.

1. Access to care
2. Housing
3. Income & employment
4. Mental & behavioral Health
5. Community safety
6. Transportation

Kaiser Permanente's implementation strategy process

Identifying the highest priority needs with an equity lens informs our community investments and helps us develop strategies aimed at making long-term, sustainable change, allowing us to deepen the strong relationships we have with other organizations that are working to improve community health.

To identify the significant health needs that Kaiser Permanente Vacaville Medical Center will address in the 2022 three-year Implementation Strategy, Kaiser Permanente Vacaville Medical Center Community Health considered a set of criteria that includes:

- Severity and magnitude of need: How health measures compare to national or state benchmarks, the relative number of people affected, impact of COVID-19 on the need
- Community priority: The community prioritizes the issue over other issues
- Clear disparities or inequities: Differences in health factors or outcomes by geography, race/ethnicity, economic status, age, gender, or other factors
- Leveraging Kaiser Permanente assets: Kaiser Permanente can make a meaningful contribution to addressing the need
- Potential to improve health equity/disparities
- Potential to collaborate with community partners
- Feasibility

Health needs Kaiser Permanente Vacaville Medical Center plans to address

The health needs in the Vacaville service area that will be addressed during 2023-2025 are:

1. Access to care: Access to comprehensive, quality health care services — including having insurance, local care options, and a usual source of care — is important for ensuring quality of life for everyone. Insurance by itself does not guarantee access to appropriate care, and many community members experience barriers related to language, transportation options, and differential treatment based on race, as well as access to fewer health care resources. In the Vacaville service area, significant racial/ethnic and other disparities in access to care indicate that there is an urgent need for more linguistically and culturally responsive care. There are disparities such as infant mortality rates for Black infants that are over twice that of white infants and unequal access to a usual source of care for Latinx residents compared to white residents. Interviewed community leaders shared that in addition to these disparities, there are insufficient specialty care options, too few providers for Medi-Cal and uninsured populations, and health services which have limited hours of operation and are inaccessible via public transportation. They also identified strategies to address access to care such as supporting vulnerable communities in accessing care; enhancing training for providers on culturally and linguistically responsive care; expanding access to specialty care providers across hospital systems; and strengthening cross-sector collaboration and coordination to integrate and improve care for individuals across providers.

2. Mental & behavioral Health: Mental health affects all areas of life, including a person’s physical well-being, ability to work and perform well in school, and to participate fully in family and community activities. Anxiety, depression, and suicide ideation are on the rise due to the COVID-19 pandemic, particularly among Black and Latinx Americans. Communities across the country are experiencing a critical lack of capacity to meet the increased demand for mental health services. In the Vacaville service area, rates of death due to suicide, alcohol related disease, and drug over doses per 100,000 are higher than state averages. There are disparities such as high rates of suicide attempts among LGBTQ+ students compared to straight students and lower rates of receiving sought-after treatment for behavioral health issues among Latinx and multiracial residents compared to white and Black residents. The interviewed community leaders shared that there are insufficient mental health services to meet the needs of the community, including for moderate mental health needs, on-site services, specialty care, and mental health services for underinsured individuals. They also expressed an urgent need for more linguistically and culturally responsive services. They identified strategies to address mental and behavioral health such as applying place-based and community specific strategies; hiring mental health providers who are culturally- and linguistically-responsive to the communities they serve; and expanding the use of peers and trusted messengers in delivering care.

3. Income & employment: Economic opportunity provides individuals with jobs, income, a sense of purpose, and opportunities to improve their economic circumstances over time. People with steady employment are less likely to have an income below poverty level and are more likely to be healthy. Those not having enough resources to meet daily needs such as safe housing and enough food to eat are more likely to experience health-harming stress and die at a younger age. In the Vacaville service area, an increasing cost of living amid stagnant wages has put pressure on workers with low income, who often have to choose whether to prioritize housing, food, or health care. There are disparities such as lower per capita incomes for Black and Latinx residents and high rates of child poverty in the county’s more rural areas. The interviewed community leaders shared that frontline workers such as migrant seasonal farm workers and those in the hospitality industry have been disproportionately impacted by economic insecurity. They also identified strategies to address income and employment such as expanding job training with local companies; subsidies to ease economic pressures for low-income families; and addressing the root of economic insecurity issues through advocacy and systems change efforts.

4. Housing: Having a safe place to call home is essential for the health of individuals and families. American families’ greatest single expenditure is housing, and for most homeowners, their most significant source of wealth. Housing costs have soared in recent years, with many families experiencing difficulty paying for housing. Black and Latinx renters in particular are more likely to live in cost-burdened households and face housing instability. In the Vacaville service area, housing has become increasingly expensive as wages have remained stagnant. Other disparities such as a lack of affordable housing options for low-income households and seniors and high-cost burden for Black and Native American renters in particular also exist. The interviewed community leaders shared that the high cost of housing has led to the displacement of long-term residents and younger families who can no longer afford to live and work in the area. They also identified strategies to address housing such as expanding housing stock to include more affordable options; addressing barriers to economic security by increasing local wages; and collaborating across sectors towards advocacy and systems change efforts.

Kaiser Permanente's approach to implementation strategies

As the nation's largest nonprofit integrated health care organization, Kaiser Permanente is mission-driven to improve health and well-being in the communities we serve. The COVID-19 pandemic has underscored deep-seated inequities in health care for communities of color and amplified the social and economic disparities that contribute to poor health outcomes.

We will continue to work to improve the conditions for health and equity by addressing the root causes of health, such as economic opportunity, affordable housing, health and wellness in schools, and a healthy environment. We carry out work in our focus areas through a lens that includes deepening our commitment to equity and inclusion.

Kaiser Permanente strategic focus areas include:

Increasing health access

- Charity care: Transforming Charitable Health Coverage and Medical Financial Assistance approaches to continue supporting coverage and care needs for our communities and patients
- Medicaid: Growing our Medicaid participation in a financially sustainable way through innovative operating models that support whole person care and coverage
- Safety Net Partnerships: Ensuring that communities have access to a strong safety net that can equitably meet patients' needs and improve health outcomes

Social health needs

- Thrive Local: Establishing bi-directional electronic community networks that enable health care providers, safety net clinics, social service agencies, government programs, and other participants to make, receive, and track patient and client referrals
- Food for Life: Transforming the economic, social, and policy environments to improve health and food security for the communities we serve
- Intergenerational healing and trauma: Acknowledging and addressing trauma across the life course, including trauma related to exposure to racism

Improving community conditions

- Economic opportunity: Increasing income, improving financial security, and reducing economic inequities through our business operations and community partnerships
- Housing for Health: Transforming housing and homelessness systems to improve housing stability for the communities we serve
- Thriving Schools: Fostering healthier school environments for students, staff, and teachers
- CityHealth: Advancing local policies that improve conditions for health
- Environmental stewardship: Reducing and eliminating environmental contributors to disease and illness

We procure supplies and services from a diverse set of providers and partner with workforce development programs to support a pipeline for diverse suppliers, and we build the capacity of local small businesses through training on business fundamentals. We also conduct high-quality health research and disseminate findings intended to increase awareness of the changing health needs of diverse communities, address health disparities, and improve effective health care delivery and health outcomes.
